INTERVIEW REPORT

On 12-20-12 this Trooper and Trooper Connolly, #431, interviewed Matthew Cassavavechia in a conference room at Danbury Hospital. Cassavechia is the Director of Emergency Medical Services for Danbury Hospital. Also present was Melinda Monson, attorney for Western Connecticut Health Network, and Edward Heath, of Robinson and Cole, LLP, legal counsel for Danbury Hospital.

Cassavechia stated that he was working on 12-14-12 when he received a page from Danbury Fire Department dispatch to "call immediately". At that time Cassavechia stated that he was notified of a shooting incident at Sandy Hook Elementary School (SHES) and that the State Police were requesting ambulances. Cassavechia stated that in 2006 he was trained as a tactical paramedic operator at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center. Cassavechia stated he dispatched other tactically trained paramedics to prepare for a tactical entry. Cassavechia stated that he arrived on scene at approximately 10 a.m. He stated he set up telephone contact with Dr. Broderick, the Emergency Medical Control Physician at Danbury, to keep the hospital informed of potential victims and patients who may be transported.

Cassavechia stated that he met with State Police Sergeant Bill Cario and informed him of his status as being the highest medical authority on scene. SGT Cario escorted Cassavechia, paramedic John Reed, a tactically trained paramedic, and paramedic Bernie Meehan into the building to begin patient assessment and treatment. Cassavechia stated that after entering the building he "saw horrific carnage" and identified most of the victims as "children with horrific injuries".
